A Large Wherwell Cushion

Kindly donated by Caroline Inchyra

The Wherwell Cushion is the centrepiece of the Inchyra Wherwell Collection. A large lumbar cushion, the design originated from a silk brocade cushion found at Inchyra House. Dating from the mid-1800s the cushion had almost completely disintegrated. Each piece of original textile was painstakingly scanned to create a printable artwork. The cushion is finished with a deep brush fringe, zip closing and feather pad.

Size: W 78cm H 38cm

Bottle of Glenmorangie Signet

Kindly donated by Glenmorangie

Signet begins with a precious chocolate malt spirit, made just once a year in Glenmorangie's giraffe-high stills. Its espresso-like intensity fills the distillery with aromas more familiar in an Italian coffee bar.

Over the years, its power is tempered with rare and treasured casks. Bourbon for creaminess. Sherry for sweetness. The spice of virgin charred oak. All balanced by some of the oldest whisky.

The result? A velvet explosion of flavour. Bursts of bitter mocha, sizzling spice and waves of dark chocolate, mellowed by smooth butterscotch. Whisky, as you have never tasted it before.
